第二部分 阅读理解(共两节,满分40分)

第一节 (共15小题;每小题2分,满分30分)

阅读下列短文,从每题所给的A、B、C和D四个选项中,选出最佳选项,并在答题卡上将该项涂黑。

A

Have you ever been to the following places? If not, try to find a chance to visit them.

Fez, Morocco

Fez, about 240 miles northeast from Marrakech, a wonderful scene is taking root slowly. It started with immigrants building castles, and continues as hotels and restaurants. The biggest news is that the Hotel Sahrai is completed with a bar and 50 rooms, many overlooking a pool.

Catskills, New York

The region that welcomed Jewish families in the 50s, hippies in the 60s, and soon, casino gamblers(赌博者). Many stylish B&Bs have opened. Among them are the Hotel Dylan in Woodstock, the Arnold House in Livingston Manor, with its bar and diminutive spa(水疗中心). So now is the time to enjoy fly-fishing, hiking and other peaceful experiences.

Rotterdam, Netherlands

The constantly unfolding city center in Rotterdam has become one amazing explosion of style, which surprised the tourists greatly. The latest attraction, and reason enough to visit, is the MVRDV-designed Markthal, an igloo(圆顶冰屋)—like horseshoe that houses 20 shops, nine restaurants and 228 apartments. It also happens to be Holland's largest artwork.

Chengdu, China

Famous for its 1,600 pandas, most of which still live in the wild, the Chengdu government has introduced a 72-hour no-visa policy that makes it easier for Americans to drop in on one of the city's three major panda research facilities. But it's worth sticking around longer to experience what's doing in Chengdu, a city on the rise. One of the shiniest attractions is New Century Global Centre, the world's largest building, complete with an artificial beach.

21. What can a tourist do in Catskills?

- A. Join the local people in building castles.
- B. Play with the pandas in the wild.
- C. Design igloos with tourists.
- D. Go fishing and hiking.

22. Which is Holland's largest artwork?

- A. The Hotel Sahrai.
- B. The Hotel Dylan.
- C. Markthal.
- D. New Century Global Centre.

23. What did the Chengdu government do to attract the American travelers?

- A. It improved its quality of service.
- B. It introduced a 72-hour no-visa policy.
- C. It has created the world's largest building.
- D. It completed a building with an artificial beach.

B

Whatever life threw at us each year, our family had one tradition at Christmas: our dog Pepper opened our presents for us.

Last year, everyone made it home for a Christmas get-together. However, it couldn't feel perfect because Pepper's health was becoming worse. Her life had already been longer than we expected—she was fourteen—and yet her mind was still sharp. Her love for life made us feel better. But her body could not keep up with her mind.

Probably it was Pepper's last Christmas, so we decided to make sure she would enjoy it. On Christmas Eve, we each prepared presents for her.

Soon, Pepper selected her first Christmas gift. She turned the present, just as she was a young dog once more. She pulled the paper off the dog treat before she chewed it slowly. Our family was so happy.

Pepper saw the remaining three presents, and then turned to Mom as if asking, “May I open another?”

“Go ahead, girl!” Mom encouraged.

For the next few minutes, Pepper opened each of her Christmas presents. While she did, she reminded us of the joy of being together. Our family felt as a whole—not because we were in the same room or city, but because our love brought us together.

Pepper passed away after Christmas. Her peaceful passing made us tearful. Her passing was also a celebration of life, because she gave my family so much love and laughter.

I still treasure Pepper’s final Christmas gift. She taught me that no matter where we each spend the holidays, the smallest act of sincere giving can unite our family through our love. For me, that knowledge is the longest-lasting gift of all.

24. Why did the author think the Christmas wasn’t perfect last year?

- A. Pepper showed no interest in the presents.
- B. Mother couldn’t come to the get-together.
- C. Pepper died on Christmas Eve.
- D. Pepper was in poor health.

25. How many Christmas gifts did Pepper get last year?

- A. One.
- B. Two.
- C. Three.
- D. Four.

26. What does the underlined phrase “the longest-lasting gift” in the last paragraph refer to?

- A. The Christmas presents prepared for the dog by mom.
- B. The holiday the author spent with the whole family.
- C. The life lesson the author learned from Pepper.
- D. The friendship with the dog.

27. Which of the following can be the best title for the text?

- A. The Power of Love
- B. Celebrating Christmas
- C. The Importance of Helping Others
- D. Enjoying the Happiness of Making Friends

C

When someone has been bitten by a snake, try to find out if the snake is poisonous or harmless. Their bite marks are usually different. The bite of most poisonous snake leaves marks of two fangs(毒牙). If the bite of a snake leaves only two rows of teeth marks, but no fang marks, it is less likely that the snake is poisonous.

People often believe that certain harmless snakes are poisonous. Try to find out which of the snakes in your area are truly poisonous and which are not. Please do not kill non-poisonous snakes, because they do no harm. On the contrary, they kill mice and other pests that do lots of damage to the crops. Some even kill poisonous snakes.

Here is some treatment for poisonous snakebite:

* Stay quiet; don’t move the bitten part. The more it’s moved, the faster the poison will spread through the body. If the bite is on the foot, the person should not walk at all. Send for medical help.

* Remove jewellery because swelling can spread rapidly.

* Wrap the bitten area with a wide elastic bandage or clean cloth to slow the spread of poison. Keeping the arm or leg very still, wrap it tightly, but not so tight that it stops the pulse(脉搏) at the wrist or on top of the foot. If you cannot feel the pulse, loosen the bandage a little.

* Wind the bandage over the hand or foot, and up the whole arm or leg. Make sure you can still feel the pulse.

* Carry the person, on a stretcher(担架) if possible, to the nearest health center. If you can, please also take the snake, because different snakes may require different antivenoms(抗毒血清).

* Poisonous snakebite is dangerous. Send for medical help—but always do the things explained

28. What is the purpose of Paragraph 2?

- D

32. Why did the nurse suggest connecting via FaceTime?

- 【高二期末考试·英语 第5页(共8页)】

33. What did the father think of the telemedicine service?
A. He doubted the quality of the service. B. He thought highly of the service.
C. He insisted the service be improved. D. He challenged the authority of the nurse.
34. What do we know about the rooms for telemedicine?
A. Mics are equipped to protect privacy of patients.
B. Better air conditioners are provided for a comfortable environment.
C. Professional books are in place for immediate consultation.
D. The room with a computer is situated in the doctor's home.
35. What challenges may some clinicians face in telemedicine?
A. They are afraid of being isolated from patients.
B. They could not examine the patients carefully.
C. They are required to deal with in-person interactions.

第二节 (共5小题;每小题2分,满分10分)

根据短文内容,从短文后的选项中选出能填入空白处的最佳选项。选项中有两项为多余选项。

The modern working rhythm can be incredibly intense and stressful. 36 So it becomes highly important to know how to switch off the work during weekends to avoid burning out in some time. Here are some tips to take advantage of weekends and relax from my personal experience.

37

Working on weekdays often put a lot of pressure on you. You should use your weekends properly to adjust yourself. Being selfish sometimes is not a bad idea at all. If you do not take care of yourself, you will not have anything to offer to your family, no matter how much you love them.

Enjoying the moment.

Emails and texts can be helpful, but that does not mean they should get messy every minute of your life. 38 According to Cascade Stress Report, people need an average of 10 days to switch off work and relax. So, try to turn off your electronic devices and focus on the environment around you.

Not engaging in heavy tasks.

39 You can actually do many tasks effectively, yet without spending your entire weekend on them. Regardless of whether you are trying to exercise or go to a particular course, it is time to stop chasing the quantity and actually focus on quality.

Getting rid of negative people.

The conversation with such individuals is strictly based on their own problems, and every story is focused on themselves. 40 So, stop wasting your time on useless people who are stealing your energy and not giving anything in return.

- A. Make yourself happy.
B. Avoiding the pressure.
C. Everything in this world has a price, except your time.
D. Instead, put them aside and start enjoying your free time.
E. Good time management requires you to work less and be happier.
F. Also, identify those things that are having a positive effect on your life.
G. Plenty of people are increasingly working overtime and during the weekends.

参考答案、提示及评分细则

听力部分录音稿

(Text 1)

M: What about going to supper now?

W: It's only half past five. I'm not hungry. Let's go in half an hour.

(Text 2)

M: You look tired, Rose. Have you been at the library all afternoon?

W: I didn't have time to go, because my mother borrowed my bike to go shopping. I went to the supermarket instead and it was really busy. I'll go to the library tomorrow.

(Text 3)

W: Do you want to take this coat, sir?

M: I really like the style, and the price is good, but I don't like the color. Do you have this coat in any other color?

W: Sorry. It's the last one of this style left in our store.

(Text 4)

W: Shall we go for a walk by the river?

M: Well, I don't know. I think it may rain later.

W: But the sun is shining! It's a beautiful day now. There isn't a cloud in the sky!

M: OK.

(Text 5)

M: I heard there is a new coffee shop in our neighborhood. Have you been there?

W: Yes. I went there with a friend yesterday. I really enjoyed the environment, and the cost of the coffee is very reasonable.

M: Then I'll go there this afternoon and try the coffee.

(Text 6)

W: It's gonna be sunny this Saturday. Wanna have a picnic in the park?

M: Great. And we can also ride our bikes for a while.

W: Yeah. Then there will be a wedding in the evening.

M: Oh, I almost forgot it! Dyson and Jason invited us for their wedding dinner. Hope it won't last long. I really want to get home early to watch the football game.

W: Me too. I was invited to attend a local painting exhibition in the museum this Sunday morning. So I really need to have enough time for a good sleep.

(Text 7)

W: Mike, could you help me tomorrow afternoon? I'll have a yard sale from 3:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m. .

M: OK, but could you tell me what a yard sale is?

W: It's a sale held in someone's yard, selling used things. It's a great way to make some money from our old things.

M: I never did that in my country. We usually just throw away our old things.

W: That's really a waste, You know, something useless to you may be very useful to someone else. Sometimes you can give them to your friends or relatives.

M: I agree. I think yard sales can also be good for the environment.

(Text 8)

W: Jeff, what's your favorite Mexican holiday?

M: Definitely the Day of the Dead.

W: What is that? It sounds a little scary.

M: It's not really scary for us Mexicans. Actually that day we celebrate, well, not celebrate, but remember our family members who are already dead.

W: OK. How do you remember then?

M: We put a big table decorated with flowers, bread, coffee or whatever the person that is dead used to like and we think that on that day that person is going to come back from the dead.

W: I see. And when do you have the holiday?

M: It's on November the first, and the second, too.

W: Do you do it just for your family or do you go and visit friends or other relatives?

M: No, we only keep it within the family actually.

(Text 9)

M: Madam, do you know how fast you were going just now?

W: Uh, well, no, I didn't think I was going that fast. . .

M: This is a 25 mph zone, Madam. You see that school over there? You were going 35 mph.

W: But today is Sunday, sir. There is no school today.

M: That doesn't matter, Madam. There are signs that say what the speed limit is. Besides, children often come to school on the weekends to play sports. You see all those kids over there? What if you hit one of them by accident?

W: I'm sorry, officer, I won't do it again. Could you please let me off with a warning?

M: I'm afraid I can't do that, Madam. In school zones, I'm required to give tickets to all drivers who break the rules. It's the law in this county.

W: Oh, dear! What is this going to cost me?

M: I don't know, Madam. Usually, these things can be taken care of for less than $100. Now please sign here at the bottom.

W: OK. . . is that all?

M: One more thing, if you go to traffic school, your insurance won't go up. Have you been to traffic school before, Madam?

W: No, I haven't.

M: There are many cheap options online. It's definitely better than paying more for insurance.

W: OK, thank you.

M: My pleasure.

(Text 10)

What personal qualities should a teacher have? I think the following would be accepted by most of us. Firstly, a teacher should be attractive. It doesn't mean a teacher should be good-looking. He or she should be able to attract students' attention. Anyway, they shouldn't be boring. Secondly, it is basic for a teacher to understand the minds and feelings of other people. Thirdly, a teacher should be a bit of an actor or actress, which means that a teacher should put on an act to make his or her lessons interesting. Fourthly, a teacher must be very patient. Teaching requires great effort and a teacher should be able to deal with problems that children often meet in their studies and in their lives. Finally, a teacher should have the kind of mind which always wants to go on learning. Teaching is a job which a teacher will never be perfect in. There is always something to learn. There are three main subjects of study: the subjects, the methods and the students. Education needs full and active cooperation between the teacher and the students.

Dear Tony,

You can't imagine how delighted I feel when I know that you are coming to China. You know a copy of the passport is a must for buying the ticket for foreigners. So you are supposed to send one to me by email. Additionally, when the CRH ticket from Beijing to Shanghai is booked, you can pick it up by having your passport checked upon arriving in Beijing.

Finally, I'd like to express my appreciation for your choice. CRH is the best means of transportation in China. China's advanced technology contributes to its high speed, comfort and safety, which is also popular with people abroad.

Hope you will enjoy your trip on CRH.

Yours,
Li Hua
