

2019 年雅礼中学高一新生入学分班摸底卷

满分: 100 分 时间: 60 分钟

一、单项选择 (每小题 2 分, 共 20 分)

- () 1. —Do you know _____ tall girl in purple?
—Sure. That's Kate. She is an old friend of mine.
A. an B. a C. the D. /
- () 2. Sports are popular with students. According to the report, about _____ of the students like more than one sport.
A. third-fourth B. three-fourth
C. third-fourths D. three-fourths
- () 3. I can hardly hear what it is saying on TV. Would you please _____?
A. turn it up B. turn it down C. turn it off D. turn it on
- () 4. When we are in trouble, we need to get _____ from others.
A. many money B. some advice
C. many help D. some chances
- () 5. —Would you like another cup of tea?
—No, thanks. I _____ be off now. Rose is waiting for me.
A. prefer to B. would like to C. have to D. am going to
- () 6. —Have you ever been to Disneyland?
—Yes. I _____ there last summer.
A. will go B. went C. have gone D. was going
- () 7. —Why were you late for school this morning?
—I got up very early this morning, _____ I didn't catch the first bus.
A. and B. but C. or D. so
- () 8. Tom, I heard that your mother went to Qingdao last week. Could you tell me _____?
A. when she will come back B. why will she come back
C. where will she come back D. if she will come back
- () 9. Look at the poster! It says that there _____ a concert in our school next Saturday.
A. is B. will have C. will be D. is going to have
- () 10. —What do you think of the film Rio?
—Wonderful. _____ could be better!
A. Everything B. Something C. Anything D. Nothing

二、完形填空 (每小题 2 分, 共 20 分)

One day, he was too busy to have enough lunch and had to keep on working. He walked up and down Market Street, keeping a 11 eye on things and getting hungrier and hungrier. He passed Tony's 12 store. "Would you like to have a banana, Jack?" greeted Tony. But Jack 13 his head and said, "No, thank you." He never ate when he was at 14. Then he went past another shop that was full of cheeses, cold meats, potato chips, and so on. And when the shopkeeper offered him a pack of sausage, he 15 again. So it went, all day long. The 16 man went past the sweet store, the bakery, the peanut man and the coffee-apple man, saying, "No, thank you. I'm on duty." He got much 17. At last, his day ended, and he immediately ran back home. He went 18 the stairs and into the kitchen.

"You must be hungry, man!" cried his wife, who had prepared well for the dinner. "Sit at the 19 and eat!" Jack sat down immediately and began to enjoy the meal. It seemed that it was the most delicious and biggest meal he had ever had. He said, "Thank you, my dear." "It's always a pleasure to 20 for you." His wife replied.

- | | | | |
|---------------------|-------------|------------|-------------|
| () 11. A. lazy | B. lovely | C. patient | D. sharp |
| () 12. A. shoe | B. fruit | C. toy | D. clothes |
| () 13. A. shook | B. nodded | C. relaxed | D. hit |
| () 14. A. break | B. street | C. school | D. work |
| () 15. A. accepted | B. received | C. refused | D. admitted |
| () 16. A. poor | B. lucky | C. smart | D. worried |
| () 17. A. hungrier | B. happier | C. ruder | D. sadder |
| () 18. A. past | B. in | C. on | D. up |
| () 19. A. window | B. chair | C. table | D. floor |
| () 20. A. wait | B. cook | C. wash | D. smile |

三、阅读理解 (每小题 2 分, 共 40 分)

A

Having returned from her round trip, the angry woman stood outside the ticket office of the station. "The railway should pay me back £12, so you owe me the money," she said to Harry Jenks, the young man who was working at the office. "You sold me a ticket for May 22nd, but there was no ship from Jersey that night. So my daughter and I had to stay in a hotel. It cost me £12."

Harry was worried. He remembered selling the woman a return ticket. "Come into the office, Madam," he said politely. "I'll just check the Jersey timetable for May 22nd."

The woman and her little girl followed him inside. She was quite right, as Harry soon discovered. There was no sailing on May 22nd. How could he have made such a careless mistake? He shouldn't have sold her a ticket for that day. Wondering what to do, he smiled at the child. "You look sunburnt," he said to her. "Did you have a nice holiday in Jersey?"

"Yes," she answered shyly. "The beach was lovely. And I can swim, too!"

"That's fine," said Harry. "My little girl can't swim a bit yet. Of course, she's only three..."

"I'm four," the child said proudly. "I'll be four and a half."

Harry turned to the mother. "I remember your ticket, Madam," he said. "But you didn't get one for your daughter, did you?"

"Er, well..." the woman looked at the child, "I mean... she hasn't started school yet. She's only four."

"A four-year-old child must have a ticket, Madam. A child's return ticket to Jersey costs... let me see... £13.50. So if the railway pays your hotel, you will owe £1.50. The law is the law, but since the fault was mine..."

- () 21. What happened to the woman?
- She had to buy the return ticket in Jersey.
 - She had to return home a day earlier.
 - She had to stay in a hotel for one night.
 - She couldn't use the ticket for the round trip.
- () 22. Which of the following is TRUE?
- Harry's daughter could swim very well.
 - The Jersey timetable was totally wrong.
 - Actually, the little girl didn't need a ticket.
 - The little girl was satisfied with the holiday.

- () 23. Harry started talking to the little girl because he _____.
 A. did not know what to do B. wanted to be friendly to her
 C. had a little girl about the same age D. wanted to find a way out from her
- () 24. According to the passage, we know that Harry was _____.
 A. careful B. hard-working
 C. serious D. smart
- () 25. What would be the end of the story?
 A. The woman would ask the police for help.
 B. The woman would see the head of the station.
 C. The woman would insist on getting back £12.
 D. The woman would stop arguing and leave.

B

Why play games? Because they are fun, and a lot more besides. Following the rules, planning your next move, acting as a team member—these are all “game” ideas that you will have throughout your life.

Think about some of the games you played as a young child, such as jumping rope and hide-and-seek. Some games are entertaining and fun. But perhaps more importantly, they translate life into exciting dreams that teach children some of the basic rules they will be expected to follow the rest of their lives, such as taking turns and teamwork.

Many children's games have a practical side. Children around the world play games that prepare them for work they will do as adults. For example, some Saudi Arabian children play a game called bones. It can be very helpful to exercise their hands and eyes, which is needed in hunting.

Many sports encourage national or local pride. The most famous games of all, the Olympic Games, bring athletes from around the world together to take part in the friendly competition. People who watch the event wave flags, knowing that a gold medal is a win for a whole country, not just the athlete who has got it. For countries experiencing natural disasters or war, an Olympic win can mean so much.

Sports are also an event that brings people together. Soccer is the most popular sport in the world. People on all continents play it—some for fun and some for a living. Nicolette Iribarne, a Californian soccer player, has discovered a way to spread hope through soccer. He set up an organization which can provide poor children with not only soccer balls but also a hopeful future.

Next time, when you play your favorite game or sport, think about why you enjoy it, what skills are needed, and whether these skills will help you in your life.

- () 26. The underlined part “translate life into exciting dreams” in Paragraph 2 most probably means that games can _____.
 A. describe life in an exciting way
 B. turn real-life experiences into a play
 C. change people's views of sporting events
 D. teach children something useful and important
- () 27. What does the underlined word “it” in Paragraph 4 refer to?
 A. The whole country. B. The gold medal.
 C. The event. D. The game.
- () 28. According to the passage, why is winning Olympic medals so encouraging?
 A. It means a lot for a whole country.
 B. It proves how excellent the winners are.
 C. It helps the country out of natural disasters.
 D. It brings the winners satisfaction and money.

- () 29. Which of the following statements is NOT true?
- The most famous games are the Olympic Games.
 - People around the world play soccer just for fun.
 - The game called bones can be helpful to the Arabian children.
 - Nicolette Iribarne gives poor children a chance for a better life.
- () 30. What is the passage mainly about?
- The popular games.
 - Games and real life.
 - The advantages of games.
 - Children's games and the future.

C

Shirley Jane Temple was the leading child actor of her time, receiving a special Oscar and acting the leading role in films like Bright Eyes and Heidi.

Shirley Jane Temple was born on April 23, 1928, in Santa Monica, California. When Temple was just 3 years old, she began her first low-budget movie, Baby Burlesques. Temple's mother was aware of her girl's talents by enrolling her in dance classes at the age of 3, so her father became her agent and financial adviser.

When the cute actress was 6 years old, she appeared in her first Hollywood film, Carolina. With Fox Film Corporation, Temple made an additional 8 films. The little actress, singer and dancer with the dancing golden curls became a top earner for the studio.

In 1934, she became a world-famous star in Bright Eyes, which was designed especially for her talents. The young performer showed many wonderful pictures during 1934. She received a special Children Academy Award in February, 1935, for her outstanding contribution. President Franklin D. Roosevelt called Temple "Little Miss Miracle" for raising the public's confidence during times of economic hardship. He even said, "As long as our country has Shirley Temple, we will be all right." By 1940, Temple had 43 films under her early acting career.

After Temple grew up, she made guest appearances on television shows in the early 1960s and filmed a comedy that was never released. Temple acted 46 films in her whole life. In 1969, her life got a great change she began her diplomatic (外交的) career and worked successfully till her late life. During her political career, Temple had visited China in April, 1977. In 1988, she published her autobiography, a book about her life, Child Star.

Shirley Temple died of natural causes on February 10, 2014, at her home near San Francisco California. She was 85 years old.

Following her death, Temple's family and friends published a statement that read, "We pay her respects for a life of remarkable achievements as an actor, as a diplomat, and most importantly as our beloved mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, and adored wife of 55 years."

- () 31. How did Temple's parents help her step into the entertainment world?
- Temple's mother discovered her talents.
 - Temple's mother taught her how to dance.
 - Temple's father took charge of all her life.
 - Temple's father took away all her money.
- () 32. How many films has Temple completed by the age of 12?
- 8.
 - 43.
 - 46.
 - 85.
- () 33. Which film was especially made to show Temple's talents?
- Bright Eyes*.
 - Heidi*.
 - Baby Burlesques*.
 - Carolina*.
- () 34. Why did the President call Temple "Little Miss Miracle"?
- Because Temple was an adorable child star.
 - Because Temple gave hopes to people in difficult times.
 - Because Temple had great achievements in her acting life.
 - Because Temple was a very successful diplomat for the country.

() 35. According to the passage, in what order did these events take place in Temple's life?

- a. Temple died of natural causes.
- b. Temple became a diplomat for her country.
- c. Temple visited China during her political career.
- d. Temple published her autobiography, Child Star.
- e. Temple made her first acting in a low-budget movie.
- f. At the age of six, Temple became well-known for her successful acting.

A. f, e, c, d, b, a

B. e, f, b, d, c, a

C. e, f, b, c, d, a

D. f, e, d, b, c, a

D

Events of MH370

Key Points

■ China is researching a new image of debris (碎片) discovered in the southern India Ocean, potentially from missing flight MH370.

■ International rescue teams widen their search and more aircraft join the Australia-led operation.

■ The search is focused on a vast and faraway area 2, 500 km (1, 550 miles) south-west of Perth, Australia.

■ Satellites had already spotted some debris in the area earlier this week, but planes have so far failed to track down the objects.

■ The airliner with 239 people (including 154 Chinese) on board disappeared on 8 March after leaving Kuala Lumpur bound for Beijing.

Report

Reporters: Nina Lamparski and Ravin Sampat

15: 44: Until the plane, or its remains are found, relatives of those missing people cling on to a small hope against seemingly terrible possibility. In this feature, the BBC's Alastair Leithead meets some of the families who tell him. "We cannot stand this situation."

15: 45: This concludes our live report of Saturday's search for the missing flight MH370 some 2, 500 km south-west of the Australian city of Perth. Although today has yielded no results, China says it has found out a new satellite image showing a large piece of debris floating in the India Ocean, which hasn't been confirmed.

() 36. According to the key points, what's the searching area for the missing plane?

- A. In the southern India Ocean.
- B. In the water area around Australia.
- C. In the water area in the southern Pacific Ocean.
- D. In the area 2, 500 km south-west of Perth, Australia.

() 37. How many passengers from China are there on the missing plane?

- A. 370.
- B. 239.
- C. 154.
- D. 393.

() 38. What does the underlined sentence "We cannot stand this situation." mean?

- A. Some of the families cannot live in this situation.
- B. Some of the families cannot stand there for so long.
- C. Some of the families cannot bear all the terrible things.
- D. Some of the families cannot understand why it has happened.

() 39. According to the report at 15: 45, which of the following statements is TRUE?

- A. The reports are renewed every 2 minutes.
- B. The web page is shown on Saturday.
- C. China has found out the debris of the missing plane.
- D. The search is focused on a definitely limited area near Perth.

- () 40. What's the web page mainly about?
- A. People still keep on searching MH370.
B. There's a small hope to find out MH370.
C. People are searching MH370 much more widely.
D. What is happening to the missing plane, MH370.

四、完成句子 (每小题 2 分, 共 10 分)

根据所给的汉语内容, 用英语完成下列句子。

41. 她的笑容和你的一样甜。

Her smile is _____.

42. 打扰一下, 请问你能告诉我书店怎么走吗?

Excuse me, could you tell me _____ to the bookshop?

43. 明天, 网上书店会给你送书。

The books from the Internet shop _____ you tomorrow.

44. 对一个 13 岁的男孩儿来说, 独自去外国旅游真的很勇敢。

_____ brave _____ a 13-year-old boy _____ around the foreign countries alone.

45. 他跑得多快啊! 没有人能赶得上他。

_____ he runs! No one can catch up with him.

五、任务型阅读 (每小题 2 分, 共 10 分)

阅读下面短文, 根据短文内容回答问题。

Should Shanghai bid for (申办) the Summer Olympics in 2028? Here are some people's opinions.

Some people said, "The games will improve Shanghai's global influence and the city is powerful and must try to become a platform (平台) for major international dialogues. Shanghai has succeeded in holding the World Expo in 2010 and the city can also hold the successful Summer Olympics."

Others, however, are not sure that it's a good idea. They think the Olympics would be too expensive and the money could be better spent on other things.

The 2008 Beijing Olympics brought much prestige (声望) to the city and to China, but its cost, over $40 million, was high and the Olympic site (场地) in the center of the city is now largely unused. Could Shanghai learn from Beijing's experience and do it better?

My answer is yes. As one American said, "A great city has to do great things." Shanghai is a great city and is not afraid of facing challenges. Holding the 2028 Summer Olympics would prove that.

46. When did Shanghai hold the World Expo?

47. Why don't some people agree to bid for the 2028 Summer Olympics?

48. How much did the 2008 Beijing Olympics cost?

49. Does the writer agree to Shanghai's bidding?

50. 请将画线句子翻译成汉语。

