Text 1

W: I've been taking piano lessons for five years now, but I don't enjoy it any more.

M: Yeah, and you're not in the singing club any more.

W: I used to be in it, but now I love the tennis club best.

Text 2

M: You look more beautiful in this white skirt than that yellow one.

W: Thank you. I like the white one better. But how much will you charge me?

M: It costs $100, but I'd like to take off 30%, and that's it.

Text 3

W: We have no food in the house, and I am not in the mood to go shopping this late at night. I don't want to eat Italian food, though.

M: All right. Let's see what the kids want, then, because I don't want to eat Italian food, either.

Text 4

M: You've been doing well with your diet, Diane. I'm proud of you. You never eat junk food any more.

W: I decided to follow your advice. I used to order delivery like most people in the office, but you inspired me to eat healthier meals.

Text 5

W: I think we are sitting too close to the screen. My neck is starting to hurt.

M: I know. If we got here earlier, we probably could have found seats higher up.

Text 6

W: Didn't you see that traffic light? You drove the car right through it! We almost hit that big truck! I was so scared.

M: I'm sorry! I fell asleep for one second. It's late, and I'm tired. We've driven ten hours already! I need to stop and rest.

W: That's okay. I was just worried that we were going to have an accident. Let's stop at the next gas station. I can drive the rest of the trip. We only have three more hours until we're home. This is a long drive.

M: It is! But I'm glad we got to visit our family. Maybe next time we should fly in a plane instead! That would only be a four-hour trip.

Text 7

M: Mrs. Barrow? Could you please tell me what I missed last week?

W: You need to give the class a presentation on a foreign culture.

M: That's easy. My family is French.

W: I'm sorry. It must be different from your own.

M: Do you have any suggestions on where I should start?

W: Well, you need to choose a culture. Then you need to find someone to interview.

M: Our new neighbors just moved here from China three weeks ago. I can interview them!

W: That's a good idea. Then, you need to choose two parts of that culture you want to study.

M: I understand. I'll ask them about what they eat, and what kind of holidays they celebrate.

W: Sure. It can also be differences in language, music, or sport. It's up to you. You have two weeks to complete your homework. Good luck!

Text 8

M: Welcome to North Park pool center! The kid's pool is to the right of reception here.

W: Thanks. We're good swimmers. We'll go to the regular pool.

M: The regular pool is only open to people 12 years old and over.

W: I'm 13 and my brother here is 14. My sister will be 12 in just two months. Can you let us in?

M: There are no exceptions. You and your brother may swim in the regular pool, but your sister will have to go to the kid's pool.

W: Oh, no!

M: There is an excellent swimming teacher there for safety and there are many other kids she can swim with. But keep in mind that with our new July hours, the kid's pool closes at 6:00 p.m.

W: Last month, we all played in that pool until 7:30.

M: That was probably on June 21. We had a special activity that day.

W: Well, the whole point of coming here was to have fun all together. If the kid's pool is closing soon, we'll just come back tomorrow.

Text 9

W: Andrew?

M: What is it, Martina?

W: Your mother left specific instructions for you to do your homework before playing video games. Just now, I heard the TV in your room. Are you finished with your homework?

M: Uh, no...I'll bring it down.

W: Thank you. Do you need any help? I'm pretty good at math.

M: No, that's OK. I know how to do everything, and I only have 20 problems left. I'm already halfway done.

W: Good. While you finish that, I'll start dinner. What do you want to have?

M: We usually have hamburgers on Thursday nights. The meat is in the downstairs freezer. Do you want me to get it?

W: No, I'll do it. Just keep going with your work. Do you have homework for any other subjects?

M: My English teacher gave us two chapters to read, but I finished that on the bus back from school.

W: You know, when I was your age, I only had about 30 minutes of homework a night. And we never got any homework on the weekends.

M: Really? I probably have two hours of homework per night, and I have at least an hour every weekend.

W: Yeah, it's the same with Jasmine, one of the other kids I watch during the week. She actually has even more than you because she goes to a private school!

M: Wow. So, I'm almost finished with these problems. Can I help you with dinner after that?

W: Of course! I'll definitely put you to work, my friend!

Lost

I'm Li Hua, an exchange student from Class One, Grade Three. To my great regret, I lost a blue handbag, which contains the keys to my bedroom and my bike, my ID card, pens as well as some cash in a small black wallet in the school library yesterday. These things are of great significance to me, because some of them can't be obtained here in England. I would be extremely grateful if anyone who finds it will return it to me as soon as possible!

Come to my classroom or give me a call. My number is 66688868. Thank you very much!
